HOT / Deep Thinking Question

Why should each body paragraph focus on only one main topic?

Stage / Time	Learning Activity	Teacher Role	Student Role	AFL / Evidence	Grouping
Starter · 7 min	Page 13 picture discussion using four visuals and six prompts.	Facilitate, probe and connect ideas to studying away from home.	Observe, discuss and share ideas orally.	Quality of oral responses; use of relevant vocabulary.	Pairs → whole class
Main 1 · 8 min	Page 14 vocabulary + Audio 1. Classify nouns, verbs, adjectives and prepositions; reveal checks one by one.	Play audio, model pronunciation/meaning, check understanding.	Listen, read, classify and respond.	Oral classification and meaning checks.	Pairs
Main 2 · 7 min	Teacher-created Email Parts Game: arrange mixed cards into the correct email structure.	Run team challenge and reveal model order.	Negotiate order and justify choices.	Correct sequence + justification.	Groups
Main 3 · 8 min	Page 14 planning: select important ideas (campus life, feelings, plans, surprises, new friends/classes) and group notes.	Model choosing relevant details and paragraph grouping.	Write brief notes on paper and group ideas.	Planned notes show relevant, grouped content.	Individual → pair
Main 4 · 10 min	Pages 15–17: read Sunny's model email; identify main topic, paragraph topics, useful vocabulary, details and email parts.	Guide reading and highlight structure/main ideas.	Read, highlight, answer and explain evidence.	Correct main topic and paragraph-topic matches.	Whole class / pairs
Exit · 5 min	Five-question Email Parts challenge with one-by-one reveal.	Question, reveal and correct misconceptions.	Answer before reveal and self-check.	Accurate identification of email structure.	Whole class

Differentiation

H: justify choices and extend responses with supporting details. M: complete the core task using prompts and key vocabulary. L: use visuals, word banks, sentence frames and peer/teacher modelling.
